MEXICAN CRISIS.

AMERICA'S FIRM DEMAND.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph,"]

London, Received April 19.
Reuter's Washington correspondent says the United States has intimated to President Huerta that no further argument will be tolerated. Twenty-one guns must be fired or serious consequences will follow.

The situation is decidedly more unfavourable.
The Cabinet held a meeting which lasted three hours. The result is not known.

Mexico's Intention.

A telegram from Mexico City says President Huerta's first intention was to send a declaration of war, but his advisers dissuaded him. Now he is reiterating his determination to maintain the honour and dignity of Mexico. He insists on the condition that a simultaneous salute shall be fired.

President Wilson answered that the United States adhered to its original demand.

A Time Limit.

It is announced at White House that if President Huerta does not yield by six o'clock on Sunday evening President Wilson will take the matter to Congress on Monday.

Mr. Bryan, explaining the White House announcement, says it is conceivable that physical obstacles might defer beyond that hour the actual firing of the salutes.

American Plans.

Later.

In the event of non-compliance by President Huerta, the plan of the United States is to seize Tampico, Vera Cruz and the Vera Cruz-Mexico City railway.

Evasive Messages.

London, Received April 20.

President Huerta has sent two evasive messages contesting details, but Mr. Bryan has replied that he could not deviate from the position taken up.

Laying Down the Law.

Later.

Reuter's correspondent at Washington, cabling at 6 o'clock Washington time, states that President Huerta has not communicated any intention of complying with the ultimatum.

During the day President Huerta asked for a written assurance from the United States of a return salute. This was promptly refused, and word has been sent that a decisive answer to the ultimatum must come before 6 o'clock Mexican time.

ALBANIA.

TRIPLE ENTENTE'S INFLUENCE.

London, Received April 18.

The Triple Alliance has accepted the Triple Entente's suggestions regarding the Powers' reply to the Greek Note of the 12th inst. concerning the evacuation of Southern Albania by the Greek troops, but has suggested minor amendments, which are not expected to raise difficulties.

KING OF SWEDEN

London, Received April 19.

Reuter's correspondent at Stockholm says the King is now able to rise and sit up for brief periods.

TELEGRAMS.

ULSTER PLOT.

FRESH CONTROVERSY.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph,"]

London, Received April 19.
The Liberal papers describe the Ulster Unionist Council's statement regarding the Government's military plans in Ulster as a ludicrous effort to pervert the truth, and are of opinion that it will not impress the country.

The Conservative organs say that it constitutes a grave indictment of the Government, and they demand a strict judicial investigation. They hope that meetings will be organised in the country to protest against the threatened outrage on civil liberties.

The Nation says that the trouble in connection with the Army resignations is not over, and that there are rumours of an Irish storm at Aldershot, which will deepen if active operations against Ulster are necessary.

"A Vile Slander."

Colonel Seely, M.P., speaking at Dangle Mill, indignantly denied "the vile slander" that the Cabinet planned to provoke an outbreak in Ulster. He added that if Ulstermen interfered with the police they must expect exactly the same treatment as any other lawbreaking body of men in the United Kingdom.

Deliberate Fiction.

Mr. Harold Baker, Financial Secretary to the War Office, speaking at Coventry, said the statement of the Ulster Council was not worth the paper it was written on. It contained not a shred of truth and merely repeated, for the purposes of advertisement, allegations already flatly disproved in the House of Commons. It was a fiction deliberately framed to cover up Tory trafficking with the Army.

BALKAN PROBLEMS.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE UNITY.

London, Received April 19.

Reuter's correspondent at Vienna states that an official statement made regarding the Conference at Abbazia says the meeting afforded Count Berchtold, the Austrian Foreign Minister, and Sig. Guisiano, the Prime Minister of Italy, an opportunity of a detailed exchange of views, especially regarding Austro-Italian relations, and again demonstrated the complete harmony of views which had contributed to the peaceful solution of the Balkan problems. Both were determined to adhere to their present line of action in agreement with Germany.

NEW YORK AFFAIR.

THE MAYOR'S ASSAILANT.

London, Received April 19.

Reuter's New York correspondent says the Mayor's assailant was a septuagenarian blacksmith named Mahoney, who was unemployed.

It is said that he was inflamed with whisky and was attending an anarchist meeting when he saw the Mayor leave the City Hall.

TELEGRAMS.

GERMAN NAVY.

THE KAISER'S BELIEF.

London, Received April 19.
Reuter's Berlin correspondent states that on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the storming of Dupeppel the Kaiser has issued General Orders to the Army and Navy. The latter recalls the services of the then small Prussian Navy and expresses thanks to the Captains and Gunners who participated in the operations at Jasmund in 1864 and compelled the enemy to divert strong forces for the blockade, thus preventing the co-operation of the Army. Thereby the Navy was brought nearer to the hearts of the King and people, and the foundation was laid of a strong German fleet. The Emperor expresses his confidence that the Navy with its greater resources will achieve greater things if at any time the arbitrament of arms is invoked.

THE VARSITY SPORTS.

Ashington Beats the Long Jump Record.

In spite of some ominous looking clouds, the weather looked fairly promising for the Varsity sports half an hour before the runners turned out for the first event on the programme, and perhaps this had a favourable effect on the attendance, which was certainly far better than has been the case in recent years.

Unhappily, a sharp shower fell just before the 100 yards was run, and though the sun struggled bravely to smile upon the proceedings, the weather remained dubious, in accordance with what is fast becoming a tradition for the sports.

It was generally expected that Perrot, who, by reason of his recent victory over his President, was running as first string for Cambridge in the 100 yards, would put that event to his credit. It was a surprise, therefore, when in a finely-run race, H. M. Macintosh was seen to be rapidly coming up in the last twenty-five yards to beat the field on the post.

No one would have been astonished at Macintosh's win save for the fact that he has recently been ill, and it was not supposed that he had managed to get quite fit. It was, in the circumstances, a great win, and the time, 10.15 sec., was excellent, as the cross-wind bothered the runners a good deal.

Hammer Throwing.

Following this brief excitement, the High Jump and Throwing the Hammer were contested simultaneously, and naturally the former presented more interest for the spectators, especially as H. S. O. Ashington, last year's triple winner, was competing. But some excellent throws by J. H. R. Freeborn were duly noted by the crowd, which hereabouts was treated to a regular deluge, the threatened rain coming down in good earnest at last. In the result, however, E. T. Adams secured a victory with a throw of 123ft. 7in.

Meanwhile H. S. O. Ashington had won the High Jump with a leap of 5ft. 8in. This, with the men jumping against the wind, was a by no means bad performance, and, taking into consideration Ashington's last year's win in the Hurdles, Half and Long Jump, stamps him as an all-round athlete of exceptional merit. This made Cambridge two wins against Oxford's one, and, so far, either Varsity had won as expected.

TELEGRAMS.

FIRE! FIRE!

TWENTY-ONE OUTBREAKS.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph,"]

London, Received April 19.
There were 14 fires in London and elsewhere on Friday. A music-hall at Kingston and a picture palace at Pezance were destroyed, and serious damage was caused to linoleum works at Staines and to the Columbia market in the East End of London.

There were seven fires on Saturday the places involved comprising a distillery, tinworks, and a timber-yard in the Province, the Municipal recreation tearooms at Belfast, and three in London.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

London, Received April 19.

H.R.H. the Prince of Wales is going for a week's cruise in H.M.S. Collingwood.

Expectation reached a high pitch as the four runners went out for the Half-Mile, this race it was generally recognised, being one of the decisive ones of the day. Happily, the rain stopped just before the race was run.

R. E. Atkinson ran with splendid judgment and, without being in the least hurried by N. S. Table's efforts to cut him down, was content to hang on to the Rhodes scholar till nearing the straight when the Light Blue passed his opponent, and sprang finely at the finish, won by twelve yards.

Compensation.

This win will afford a game but unlucky runner some compensation for his ill-luck in previous years when he had to represent Cambridge in the Three Miles in default of any other competent runner. His time was quite good, considering the troublesome wind.

The Hurdles reversed the balance so far as Oxford were concerned, but Ashington had had luck in hitting the sixth hurdle, which put him clean out of the race, and the two Oxonians were left to romp home at their leisure.

Nobody expected any other result for the Mile than the victory of the Oxford President, A. N. S. Jackson, and chief interest was centred in what time he could accomplish. He won, of course, and that goes without saying, and by a fair margin, and his time of 4min. 23.15 sec. was good, considering the conditions.

Three Cambridge victories followed, thus making certain their ultimate success. D. Gordon Davies repeated his last year's win in the quarter mile after running with good judgment, R. S. Woods took the weight, and then Ashington created a record for inter-Varsity sports by winning the long jump with 23ft. 6in.

Hongkong Wireless Station.
If nothing is being done to prevent the erection of this very necessary station, why all this delay? Is it that the contract has been given to the Marconi Company and that the Company is so overloaded with orders that it cannot cope with them? The suggestion has been made to us that some protest ought to be made by the community—that the Hon. Mr. Hewett, as the representative of the Chamber of Commerce in the Legislative Council, and the Hon. Mr. Pollock, K.C., as the representative of the Justices of Peace, should call a joint meeting of their constituents to pass resolutions demanding the commencement of the work of erecting the station without further delay. Such an expression of public opinion might be of great service in this connection, and though there is little evidence of civic life in Hongkong in these days, we believe public interest in this question is keen enough to make itself evident at a meeting such as that suggested. Apart from the uses of wireless telegraphy for the protection of life and property in the season when typhoons frequently sweep the neighbouring seas, there is apparently good reason to believe that there would be a fair amount of business at all seasons of the year for a wireless station here, so that its maintenance can hardly be regarded as likely to be a burden on the Colony's finances. Unless the community does something to impress upon the powers that be the urgent public importance of Hongkong being provided with a wireless station at once, many more years may pass before it suits the convenience of the contractors to fulfil the order.

South China Morning Post.

Partisanship and Honesty.
Suspicion, malice and bitter hatred have been engendered and are—whether true or not—the ruling conditions in the Home Rule discussion of to-day. It is only to be hoped that this latest move on the part of the Unionists will not so increase the irritation roused by the unreasonableness of the extreme Ulsterites as to cause the Government to withdraw from the conciliatory attitude which has marked their more recent utterances. Deep down in their hearts many Liberals look upon Sir Edward Carson and his associates as traitors. Realizing as they do the almost pathetic appeal for peace made by the Premier, and being, as yet, under its influence, they cannot understand how anyone else could bear it and still maintain that the speaker was not sincere in his effort to remove prejudices and establish a modus vivendi settlement. Until confidence is restored and some of the honest respect which has been destroyed by the recent proceedings has been recovered, there is no hope for a settlement by consent.

British Manufacturers and Chinese Development.
Engineering manufacturers throughout the world continue to look with eager intent upon the approaching development in China, and the consequent opportunities for extensive business in that immense republic, says a writer in Engineering of the 13th ult. It might be said, indeed, that no country in the globe is at present the subject of keener propagandist work than China, and since Britain has heretofore assisted China with capital and with the best advice and the most reliable manufactures, it is natural that there should be deep interest in this country as to the measures adopted for ensuring a continuance of our commercial connection with the great republic of the East. As regards capital, we have invested in China about £40,000,000—a sum much greater than that provided by any other nation. It is, indeed, three times as much as the French nation has forwarded to China, notwithstanding that our neighbours across the Channel have the greatest amount of surplus capital for foreign investment.

225ft. Flagpole for Kew.
The Government of British Columbia has decided to give to Kew Gardens, London, a flagpole of Douglas fir from Vancouver Island, measuring 225ft. in length—in one piece. It will be the tallest flagpole in the world, says the Mail. A 150ft. flagpole of Douglas fir at Kew was taken down last December because it had decayed. It had stood for fifty years.

Woman with 110 Nightdresses.
Mrs. Cobden Sanderson, speaking at an "At Home" in the Normal Physical School, said she hoped that when women had been made to feel their responsibilities, and had been placed on an equality with men, they would feel that it was better that six women should be clothed than that one woman should have too many things for her own good. She mentioned that she knew of a lady in the country who had 110 nightdresses, and who expected the laborers on her estate to live on 12s. a week. They did not want women to be merely dressed-up machines. — Daily Chronicle.

"Sinister Street."
Mr. Compton Mackenzie's health has lately been so bad that, though Mr. E. J. Barker expected until the last moment to announce this spring the publication of the second and final volume of "Sinister Street," it has been found necessary to postpone the book until next September. Mr. Mackenzie is at present living in the South of Italy, where for the last six months he has been completely incapacitated from work. Mr. Martin Ecker, who is now staying with him, states that, while there is no cause for real anxiety, it is important that nothing should interfere with what, it is hoped, may prove a permanent cure.

Style in Walking.
Dwellers in cities and residents of the country have a different gait in walking, according to Dr. Felix Regnaud, who publishes in "Archives de Physiologie" an exhaustive study of walking. The city man uses short steps, holds his body erect, keeps his legs straight and strikes the pavement sharply with his heels before putting down the rest of the foot. The countryman takes a longer stride, leans forward, keeps his knees bent, slides his foot above the ground, and leans his weight upon the whole sole at once. Each of these gaits has its merits. That of the country man enables him to cover longer distances without fatigue if the road be fairly even; but where this is rough or broken he instinctively adopts the mode of the city man. Pace has much to do with gait. The average man can cover about three miles and a half an hour without fatigue. Natural walking is one of the finest exercises, not for the legs only, but also for the whole body, especially for the internal organs of the abdomen.

Dr. Mawson's Dream.
The Antarctic explorer, Dr. Mawson, was given a public welcome recently in the Adelaide Town Hall. There was an enormous audience. The Mayor (Mr. A. A. Simpson) presided, and eulogistic speeches were made by Sir Richard Butler and Mr. L. E. Groom (Minister for Customs). In reply, Dr. Mawson related a dream which he had had in the Antarctic. "I dreamed," he said, "to be travelling in a train in South Australia. Curiously enough, I wanted some cake. Somebody in the train, whom I had never met before, gave me the address of a shop that had something special. I got out at a country centre, and found it. The manager was sent for, but it appeared that the cakes were so large that he was alarmed at the fact that I was anxious to tackle one myself. I climbed up the fire escape of the three-storey building, and there were the cakes, as big as washing coppers. I was anxious to taste them, but the proprietor objected. Somehow, later, he hurried me out of place, and said that he would send one to me. I got down from the roof, only to see the fellow driving away in an aeroplane. Later, the cake came, however, and the instructions with it were to get a match to it, and the whole thing would come out ready cooked. Then I woke up, and the waiter of the Adelaide restaurant cried, 'Sago or sago elephant, sir?'"

MADAME PASTEUR.

The Ideal Wife of a Great Man.

Though many wilfully close their eyes to the fact, it is nevertheless true that for women or men to develop fully, they must not stand alone. Even genius, to reach its highest, requires love's stimulus. This has been shown once again in the life of the great scientist Pasteur, who found in his wife not only a faithful and loving friend but also the inspirer of his work. She shares with him to-day, when both are gone, the reverent gratitude we owe the great benefactor of humanity.

Their idyll, according to French custom, began in a most business-like fashion. At the age of twenty-six, Louis Pasteur, the brilliant, energetic and enthusiastic worker of the Paris Ecole Normale, went to the town of Straßburg, then French, as Deputy Professor of Chemistry at the University. He never left the house except to go to the College, never "tried the students' bear." Then one day he called at the house of M. Lambert, the Rector of the Straßburg Academy, and met the twenty-two year old daughter of the house.

In the book on Madame Pasteur which her son-in-law has just published we read his proposal of marriage contained in a letter to M. Lambert. "My father is a tanner at Arbois. My sisters live with him, and look after the house and the shop, as did the mother we have had the misfortune to lose. My family is comfortably off. They have about £2,000, to which I give up my claim in favour of my sisters. I have no fortune. All I possess is good health, a good heart, and my position at the University."

He does not tell his future father-in-law that he was noted already for his prodigious capacity for work and his keen questions which overwhelmed Dr. Lay, the venerated professor of chemistry. There is not one word which betrays the young man's feeling; but later on, with the humility of true love, he wrote to Madame Lambert: "I have nothing of what charms at first a young girl. But I remember that when people knew me well, they have loved me."

Marie Lambert, who had left drawn to Pasteur from the first, waited a long time before she accepted him, and, as she tells us, "prayed much." When the girl was nearer, though not yet sure, Pasteur wrote to her: "You hold my future and my happiness in your hands. During the last two days everything has changed for me. What I most deplore is that I am not more worthy of you, and cannot offer you virtues I do not possess—a better position also—though I shall set myself with all my might to improve it. I am greatly disturbed at what your first impressions may be. All I ask from you, Mademoiselle Marie, is that you will not judge me too quickly; you might be mistaken. Time will prove to you under my cold and timid manner, which must displease you, there is an affectionate heart."

Co-Worker.
Once married, there began an ideal union in which the wife was her husband's companion and co-worker. So that she might be fit to become one day his secretary and write at his dictation on the most difficult subjects, the young wife began to copy and study the scientific notes of her husband. As busy as the great man himself from early dawn until late at night, she helped him in his correspondence and always wrote to the humble home in Arbois. It was a great day when she sent them the news that Biot of the Académie des Sciences commented upon Pasteur's work: "You think too little of yourself. You are on a level with those who judge you."

The share she took in her husband's work was known and admired. When he solved one of the most difficult problems in the theory of crystallisation, this same Biot wrote to him: "Give to Mme. Pasteur half of my congratulations. I am sure she is as happy as I am." What she was to him, Pasteur understood, for on one of the rare occasions when they were separated he wrote that he could never be

M.P.S. ROMANCE.

Balkan War Love Match.

A political romance is disclosed by the engagement of Mr. Noel Buxton, Liberal M.P. for North Norfolk, and Miss Lucy Pelham Burn, of Cromer.

Miss Pelham Burn, who is a cousin of Lady Drogheda, is a member of a well-known Unionist family in Cromer, and she has been active in her opposition to the politics of her future husband. She took a leading part in a series of meetings against Mr. Buxton's representation of the constituency.

Not long after this Miss Pelham Burn took up the cause of the suffering non-combatants in the Balkan war, a cause to which Mr. Buxton, in association with the Balkan Committee, was devoting all his energies. While Mr. Buxton was superintending relief in Thrace, Miss Pelham Burn successfully organised lectures and relief agencies in the constituency. It was this association which, it may be presumed, led to the happy attachment just announced.

grateful enough towards God for having given him a companion who was one with him "in his dreams as in a waking."

Beside him always. His studies on fermentation at Lille as Dean of the Faculty of Science did a great deal of good to this industrial centre. "The first fifteen pages I wrote at his dictation," says Mme. Pasteur. "made me joyfully feel that a new book of life was opening itself for science." The great scientist spent two most laborious years in the South of France studying the silkworm disease which was devastating the country. Again his wife shared his labour and encouraged him by her presence, always the same bright, brave woman, though she lost here her third child. The Herculean task accomplished, Pasteur was stricken with paralysis. His strong brain recovered, but never a week he dictated to his wife the result of his researches on feline, the silkworm disease. Two volumes, the fruit of his labour, he dedicated to the Empress Eugénie, who put at his disposal a villa near Trieste where he might recover.

Always there was his wife beside him, ready to exonerate those who did not understand him, always asking him to be patient, a devoted secretary, a faithful nurse; for though Pasteur had recovered, he remained partially paralysed on the left side, and needed his wife's constant care. He had successfully tried inoculation against rabies on animal, but he suffered tortures before he tried it on the human frame. For this great scientist had a very tender heart. We all know how he succeeded, and that an international subscription raised the Pasteur Institute.

Four years later, scientific delegates from the whole of Europe—Lister, his friend, foremost—celebrated in the great amphitheatre of the Sorbonne the seventieth birthday of the master, and not only did Mme. Pasteur, hidden away on the platform, share the triumph of the husband, but the place she had occupied in his work was made clear by M. Charles Dupuy, the Minister of Public Instruction, who publicly paid homage "to her who had so well understood him, and loved him so well." — Daily Mail.

Harbour Of Lung Kow.

Work is proceeding on the harbour of Lungkow and it is anticipated that the port will soon be opened to foreign trade. The port, which is situated about 70 miles west of Chefoo, offers good natural advantages for a harbour and with a little dredging on the bar should make a good anchorage. A light-house has been erected on the promontory that protects it from North-easterly gales and it is already the principal port of embarkation for the Shantung coolies who yearly make their way into Manchuria via Newchwang in search of work.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, APRIL 20, 1914.

THE NAVAL POSITION.

The Admiralty, according to a telegram in Friday's issue, is inviting tenders earlier than usual. Presumably it is now to go in for unusually rapid construction. Something of the kind was anticipated from Mr. Churchill's speech recently on the navy estimator. In that speech Mr. Churchill did not give very clear answers to the questions about the missing Canadian ships and about the fleet in the Mediterranean. A year ago he said that if Canada did not build the three ships projected by her the Home Government would have to build them. Last summer he expedited the laying down of three battleships as a partial and temporary device for making up the deficiency. In the new financial year, beginning this month, he was, as a further expedient, to lay down, as soon as possible, two of the four battleships on the new programme. In 1915-16, if Canada still remains inactive, the Admiralty, he said, would have to lay down one battleship earlier than usual.

Mr. Churchill said that in the year just ended the 10 per cent. surplus of capital ships available for general purposes outside the North Sea—where Britain maintains in theory a fleet half as large again as that of Germany—has been increased by one ship and that it will be increased by another ship next year, and one in the year following. Thus, by exceptionally rapid construction, involving increased expenditure for the three years, we are, he declares, to gain the advantage of three ships just as if the three Canadian ships had been laid down at the expected time. This is a very ingenious argument and a fine example of a puzzle in figures. But the fact remains that Britain will have added no ships to the regular programme and that Canada will not have built her three ships. The naval difficulty will only have been postponed for a year or two and will have to be faced later when it will give more trouble than ever.

As for the Mediterranean, Mr. Churchill proposes to send there a battle-squadron, based on Malta, and to withdraw the four battle-cruisers. It is a tacit confession that the attempt to abandon the Mediterranean was a big mistake. No doubt it was prompted by motives of economy, but it was calculated seriously to damage British interests in the Levant and in the trade routes to India and the Far East. The revived Mediterranean Fleet will consist of eight battleships, all but two of them modern, and there may be some discussion as to whether it is quite sufficient. The main thing is, however, that a bad mistake has been tacitly admitted and retrieved and that Britain is to be represented, with something like credit, in the Mediterranean once more. Mr. Churchill took occasion to emphasize the importance of the Japanese alliance, renewed till 1921, as a protection for Australia and New Zealand. The Dominions are not quite so ready to trust to a paper treaty with Japan as is the Home Government, but at any rate the outlook in this part of the world is not unfavourable. The danger lies nearer Home and it is on the point of danger that efforts should be concentrated. But they should be honest efforts and not mere expedients to elude off the evil day.

The Speed Craze.

It is curious how the passion for speed grips most people in these days. One is reminded of this by the fact that there is Sunday after Sunday at present, much excitement amongst the passengers of the three boats which run to Macao as to which shall arrive first in Macao and which shall be first back in Hongkong. Now, the average person who goes to Macao on a Sunday is out for a blow on the water. The run on the steamer is what really matters to him. Yet he is considerably annoyed if he is asked to spend five minutes more on his chosen steamer than the fellow on one of the other steamers. We are a funny people. These five minutes do not matter ten cents to you, yet we feel a sense of personal grievance if we arrive last. And the passengers who are landed first, by the space of a mere minute or two, are as proud and boastful as though they had done it themselves. In many ways men are curious mixtures.

The New Times.

The Times at a penny appears to have created something like a sensation at Home, though it remains to be seen whether or no the move will prove a wise one. The British animal is a terribly ticklish animal to try and please, and it is just possible that it will deliberately proceed to find out in its own satisfaction that a cheaper Times is not nearly so dignified as in the old days, though nothing of the kind has happened. Meantime it appears to have escaped general notice that the change has been made at what is practically the centenary of another epoch in the history of the great newspaper: It was in 1814 that the Times distinguished itself by being the first British paper printed by steam power. At that time it had a leading article in which it claimed with pride that no fewer than eleven hundred copies could be printed in an hour. Newspaper production has progressed, the least important of local papers can now be run off at more than eleven hundred an hour.

Hongkong's Bye-Election.

From time to time the point is raised that at least some of the members of Hongkong's governing body, the Legislative Council, should be popularly elected, the argument being that they would then have a more direct and binding responsibility to the ratepayer. There is much to be said for this contention, and, frankly, we should like to see the elective principle put into operation. The only body in the Colony to which members are popularly elected is the Sanitary Board, and on May 1 we are to have what is something in the nature of a novelty for Hongkong—a bye election. On the last occasion, when three seats fell vacant, there was no opposition to the retiring members, but this time there is already one candidate forthcoming, which is at any rate a healthy sign.

Too Many Dogs.

While we are ready to admit that dogs may perform a very useful service in keeping away burglars we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that it is possible for a neighbourhood to be over-supplied with these animals. From what we can hear, Kowloon is in this position. We are told that the place is swarming with all manner of dogs, and that night is often made hideous by their barking and snappings. Many of these creatures are kept without licenses, too. There appears to be a useful likeness so far as the licensing of dogs goes in this Colony, and because of it, a considerable revenue is lost by the Government. Dog-owners are seldom troubled by the authorities, who appear to leave it to folk to please themselves about taking out a license. That being so, one need not wonder at the big number of canines which may be seen both in Kowloon and Hongkong.

COMPANY MEETING.

Hongkong Cotton Spinning, Weaving and Dyeing Co., Ltd.

[VERBUTIM.]

An extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders in the Hongkong Cotton Spinning, Weaving and Dyeing Company Ltd. was held this morning at the offices of the General Managers, Messrs Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., the Hon. Mr. D. Landale presiding. There were also present:—Sir C. P. Chater, Mr. J. W. C. Bonnar, Mr. Ho Yook, consulting committee, Mr. C. W. Bawick, secretary, Mr. J. Harrop, manager and Messrs. H. G. tens, B. L. Dowbiggin, A. Rodger, Lo Cheung Shai, A. Ellis, L. Byworth, Ho Yn Shang, P. Tester, G. O. Moxon, G. E. Warren, G. Potts, shareholders, H. Looker, company's solicitor, and C. Bernard Brown, liquidator.

The chairman:—As it is past the time for which this meeting has been called, and there is a quorum present I will ask the secretary to read the notice convening the meeting.

The secretary read the notice convening the meeting.

The Chairman said:—Gentlemen, we are gathered to-day to consider, and if thought fit to pass the resolutions that have been circulated, and which are necessary if the shareholders desire to expedite the transfer of the mill machinery and undertaking to Shanghai. The details of the scheme were fully set before you in the circular issued on the 27th February last.

I may say to commence with that it is with much regret that your General Managers feel it their duty to recommend the withdrawal of this industry from the Colony but we consider it is only right that the facts, as they are, should be faced, and I will give you, as briefly as possible, the reasons upon which our decision to place this matter before you have been based.

It is, of course, impossible for us to prophesy what the future of cotton spinning in China will be, but we know what we have done to do with the mill we manage in Shanghai, and a few figures comparing the results we have attained there with the working of this mill will be of interest to you. I will take the working of the Ewo Mill in Shanghai during the years 1911/12 and 1912/13. In 1911/12 the Ewo Mill made a profit of Taels $4.22 per spindle, and during 1912/13 a profit of Taels $6.81 per spindle, while the Hongkong Mill did not make a profit in 1911/12 and only the equivalent of Taels $1.73 per spindle in 1912/13. You will, perhaps, better understand the magnitude of these differences, when I tell you that during 1912/13, which of course was a very good year for cotton spinning, this mill, if it had done as well as the Ewo Mill, should have earned the equivalent of Taels, $311,418 instead of only the equivalent of Taels $70,324.

Now, gentlemen, I can assure you that the poor results obtained here have nothing whatever to do with the personnel of the foreign management. We have every confidence in those we have employed to carry out the general and technical management of the mill, and I do not think that more could have been done than has been done to make the business a success. We have found, however, by experience that there are many circumstances which militate against Hongkong as a suitable place for cotton spinning. In the first place, the hot, damp climate we have for so many months here greatly hampers spinning operations. Again the labour obtainable in Hongkong is more expensive and less efficient than that to be found in Shanghai. The raw material has all to be imported, and to the cost price of raw cotton bought in Shanghai for cotton we have to add the cost of packing, freight and export duty. A mill here, therefore, as far as China cotton is concerned, is handicapped from the start as compared with a mill in Shanghai. It is true that this difference does not exist in the case of Indian or American cotton, but China cotton has been found more suitable for spinning the yarn required for this market.

It is not our intention to relinquish the hold our shops have

SANITARY BOARD ELECTIO.

Mr. W. L. Carter Nominated for the Vacancy.

Mr. W. L. Carter, manager of the China Japan Telephone and Electric Co., Ltd., has been nominated to serve as a temporary member of the Sanitary Board during the absence of Mr. F. B. L. Bowley.

The nomination is proposed by the Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.O., and seconded by the Hon. Mr. E. A. Hewett, C.M.G.

Mr. Carter was formerly a temporary member of the Board during the absence of Mr. Hewett. The election takes place on May 1 and nominations have to be in four clear days before that date.

gained in the Southern outlets for we can make the same yarn in Shanghai, and thus in addition have the wider markets of the North to fall back upon when demand here has been satisfied. We have also to bear in mind the possibility of a revision of the Import Tariff of China, and while it is not possible to make any definite statement, it is a fact, I believe, that the Chinese Government has approached the Powers on this matter, and we may conclude that at perhaps no distant date the import duty on yarn will be materially increased, whereas mills operating in China may be given the same measure of protection in taxation as at present.

On general grounds therefore there is little doubt that Shanghai is a more suitable place for a cotton mill and although I would not like to admit that a mill here cannot be made to pay, I think it is probable a mill in Shanghai would pay better. I have now said enough I hope to convince you that the proposal to transfer the machinery to Shanghai is a sound one and I will pass on to the financial part of the scheme we have laid before you.

In exchange for each share you now hold it is proposed that you should accept one share of Taels 5 in the Yangtzepoo Cotton Mill Ltd., which is the name under which the new company in Shanghai will work, and provided your land here is not previously sold you will also receive one share in the Sukunpoo Real Estate Company Ltd., for each of your shares in the Hongkong Cotton Mill.

I think the figures I have given you will show you that if Shanghai mills continue to earn anything like the money they have done during recent years you will have a more valuable cotton mill share in course of time than the one you at present hold.

I may mention that the Shanghai Taels 625,000 to be paid by the new Company for our 45,936 spindles is equivalent to Taels 13.68 per spindle. You will recollect that Shanghai Taels 15 per spindle was paid by Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., Shanghai for the 9,936 spindles bought in 1912, but a half of that was practically new machinery, and in view of the greater age of that now available for disposal, it is considered that Taels 13.68 per spindle is a fair valuation, although it carries with it the engines and boilers of the mill.

As regards the small Yangtzepoo Mill of 9,936 spindles bought from you in 1912, which the new company will take over at Shanghai Taels 250,000, you will find on the table signed valuations by experts of the land and buildings thereof, and chartered accountants' certificates of the book value, totalling Shanghai Taels 253,387.00. This concern has been successfully worked for the past 18 months and will be available to be handed over on 31st October of this year.

There is one only other item in the capital expenditure of the new company to which I need refer and that is the cost of land and buildings adjoining the Yangtzepoo mill in Shanghai stated in the circular to shareholders as Taels 151,000. This is subject to an adjustment when the exact area of land required for the mill has been determined and is a matter that will be settled with the consulting committee of the new company in Shanghai. I mention the matter now as it is probable the cost will exceed the amount of Taels 151,000 mentioned in the circular, as the area

JUNK CAPSIZED.

Gallant Rescue of Crew at Tai O.

Yesterday the police at Tai O saw a junk capsized about a mile away from the shore. Seeing the crew clinging to the vessel they hailed another junk to go to the rescue and after several attempts, in a very rough sea, managed to save four men, a woman, and a boy aged eleven years. It was discovered, however that a young girl, eight years of age, was missing. A hole was cut in the bottom of the overturned vessel and the dead body of the girl was discovered.

The master of the ill-fated junk declares that but for the gallantry of those who came to his help the whole of the crew would have been drowned.

The police afterwards rescued the personal effects of the crew and towed the craft into Tai O harbour.

to be taken over may be larger than was anticipated.

With regard to Resolution 4, which refers to the land and buildings here, I might point out that tentative negotiations have been commenced regarding a sale of the land and buildings of the mill, which if brought to a successful issue would obviate the necessity and expense of forming the proposed Sukunpoo Real Estate Co. Ltd., and resolution No. 4 has therefore been drawn up conferring the necessary powers upon the liquidator to sell, or form the proposed company.

I may mention that the prospects of wiping out the debit balance of $117,000 carried forward from last financial year are not so good as appeared to be the case at the time we issued our circular letter of 27th February owing to the unsatisfactory position into which the local yarn market has drifted. On the other hand the prospects of obtaining a reasonable price for your land and buildings to judge from the number of enquiries we have had for the property are apparently better than we expected.

If these proposals receive your sanction, work on the new buildings Shanghai will be commenced immediately, and they should be ready to receive say one half of our machinery by October or November of this year. If profitable conditions prevail, we would of course work the remainder of the machinery here until Shanghai is ready to receive it.

As regards the details of the winding up and the formation of the new company, I do not think that I can add anything further to the circular and extraordinary resolutions you have already had before you for consideration, but I shall be pleased to answer any questions or endeavour to elucidate any points that shareholders may bring forward.

I will now propose the first resolution and after it has been seconded, the matter will be before the meeting for discussion. The first resolution is:—

That it is desirable to reconstruct this Company, and accordingly that this Company be wound up voluntarily, and that Charles Bernard Brown of Victoria, in the Colony of Hongkong, Chartered Accountant, be appointed Liquidator for the purposes of such winding up.

Mr. Tester:—I have pleasure in seconding that.

The chairman:—The resolution which you have just heard read, has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Tester, and is now before the meeting for discussion. As no shareholders have any remarks to make, those in favour of the resolution please hold up their hands—those against—carried unanimously.

The Chairman:—I will now propose the second resolution:—

That Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., the General Managers of this Company be authorised and requested to form and procure to be incorporated a new Company to be called the "Yangtzepoo Cotton Mill Limited" (of which they shall be appointed by agreement General Managers) with the objects (inter alia) of taking over the machinery and plant of this Company, and of carrying on business in or near

Mr. Dowbiggin:—I have much pleasure in seconding that.

The chairman:—The resolution which you have just heard read has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Dowbiggin, those in favour, please hold up their hands—against—carried unanimously.

The chairman:—I now beg to propose the third resolution:—

That the draft Agreement submitted to this meeting (marked "A") and expressed to be made between this Company and the Liquidator of the one part and the Yangtzepoo Cotton Mill Limited of the other part be approved; and that the Liquidator be authorised pursuant to Section 185 of the Companies Ordinance 1911 to enter into an Agreement with such new Company (when incorporated) in the terms of the said draft and to carry the same into effect with such (if any) modifications as he with the approval of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., thinks fit.

The chairman:—This resolution has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Byworth. Those in favour of it please hold up their hands—against—carried unanimously.

The chairman:—The fourth resolution, I now beg to propose:—

That the Liquidator be authorised, if and when called upon by Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., so to do, to sell the land and buildings of this Company outright upon such terms as he with the approval of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., thinks fit; or in the alternative that Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., be authorised and requested to form and procure to be incorporated a new Company to be called the "Sukunpoo Real Estate Company Limited" (of which they shall be appointed by agreement General Managers) with the objects (inter alia) of taking over the said land and buildings, and of carrying on business with Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., as General Managers so long as they hold not less than 5,000 shares in such Company, and with a Memorandum and Articles of Association in such form as they shall approve.

Mr. Tisdall:—I beg to second the resolution.

The chairman:—Resolution No. 4, which you have just heard read has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Tisdall. Those in favour please hold up their hands—against—carried unanimously.

The chairman:—I now beg to propose resolution 5:—

Conditionally upon the Sukunpoo Real Estate Co., Ltd., being formed and incorporated as aforesaid, the draft Agreement submitted to this meeting (marked "B") and expressed to be made between this Company and the Liquidator of the one part and such new Company of the other part be approved; and that the Liquidator be authorised pursuant to Section 185 of the Companies Ordinance 1911 to enter into an agreement with such new Company (when incorporated) in the terms of the said draft, and to carry the same into effect with such (if any) modifications as he with the approval of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., thinks fit.

Mr. Moxon:—I have much pleasure in seconding.

The chairman:—Resolution 5 which you have just heard read has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Moxon. Those in favour please hold up their hands—against—carried unanimously.

SPECIAL CABLES.

(Special Pacific Service to the Telegraph.—Reuter.)

PRESIDENT YUAN SHIH-KAI.

AN ASSASSINATION PLOT UNEARTHED.

Peking, Received April 18. It is reported that four suspects have been arrested in the President's office, one armed with a revolver, and also over twenty outside, in connection with an attempt to assassinate President Yuan Shih-kai.

CHINESE FINANCIAL POLICY.

NEW MINISTER'S SCHEME.

Peking, Received April 18. Mr. Hsu Shih-chang, in an interview, said his policy as Minister of Finance would be to contract long term loans to pay off short term loans; and to reduce the Army and suspend development of the Navy.

Mr. Hsu said he would do his best to improve industries, but there would be no increase in educational institutions. No returned students would be appointed to positions of responsibility.

THE JAPANESE DIET.

Tokyo, Received April 19. An extraordinary session of the Diet has been ordered for May 4.

PLOT IN HUPEH.

DISCOVERED JUST IN TIME.

Peking, Received April 20. A telegram from the Tutuh of Hupeh states that the rebels plotted to burn the Police Station on Thursday night and loot the town.

The plot, however, was discovered and 27 rebels arrested.

A LIKELY APPOINTMENT.

Peking, Received April 20. General Lu Chien chao is expected to arrive at Sianfu by the end of the month with 12,000 troops.

It is rumoured that he will be appointed Tutuh of Shensi immediately he arrives.

"WHITE WOLF" CAMPAIGN.

A CHANGE IN POLICY.

Hankow, Received April 20. An English lady who has arrived from Sianfu reports the issue of proclamations by "White Wolf" precisely similar to those issued at the outbreak of the anti-Manchu Revolution. These announce protection of the common people, merchants and foreigners.

The change is evident, since foreigners had previously been warned that "White Wolf" intended to injure them for the purpose of discrediting President Yuan Shih-kai.

The chairman:—I now beg to propose resolution 6:—

That the Liquidator be authorised to obtain advances from Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., of any moneys requisite upon such terms as he thinks fit.

Mr. Ellis:—I beg to second that. The chairman:—Resolution 6 has been proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. Ellis. Those in favour of that please signify in the usual way—against—carried unanimously. Well, gentlemen, I thank you for your attendance. This all the business we have to-day. A confirmatory meeting will be called in two or three weeks time, on a date which will be notified to confirm these resolutions, and I hope you will be able to attend that meeting.

Gone Home.

Mr. J. D. Clark, managing editor of the Shanghai Mercury, left recently by the S. M. s.s. Sakaki Maru, for Europe by the Siberian route, for a short holiday.

Mr. Hsu Shih-chang. At the third dinner given by President Yuan in honour of Mr. Hsu Shih-chang on the 8th instant, the former again urged the latter to join the public service for the welfare of the country. Mr. Hsu's reply was that he would further consider the matter.

The Damaged Venus. The work of restoring the cuts made in the Rokeby "Venus" is proceeding satisfactorily, and it is that it will only be possible by very minute inspection to detect the damaged parts. Meanwhile, a portion of the National Gallery, though it is closed to the general public, is being opened to students.

LOG BOOK.

Making Sailors.

"You can't make a suit or with a spanner, and it isn't any good to try. One of the principal implements used in his manufacture is the rope's end. At the same time was so in those romantic old wind-jamming days, when a man was a shipmaster because he was master of his ship, and not merely a captain because somebody told him to be. But since those times there has been much change, and—at any rate in the view of the old men—the glory of the business has gone now that ships are run to a time-table." —Mr. E. Verne Richardson, Vice-Consul-General for the United States of America.

New Dock Used.

The first cargo to be dealt with in the Alexandra Dock at Bombay was handled recently in the presence of several members and officers of the Port Trust. The British India S. N. Company's steamer Lealida, 3,438 tons, under the command of Captain F.W. Johnson, which arrived in Bombay on March 18 from Rangoon, with a cargo of rice and timber, entered the Alexandra Dock on March 22, and berthed at No. 6 shed. She brought 104,057 bags of rice belonging to Ghalla Gunsey and several other rice merchants. The first thing containing 17 bags of rice was lowered on the wharf, when at 8-20 a.m. some religious ceremony was performed by rice Mucadams Damji Asar and Co., and coconuts were broken near the sling and the bags were discharged from the sling and the taken into shed No. 6. Afterwards those present proceeded to No. 1 shed, where the P. and O. S. N. Company's mail steamer Arabia had berthed. A sling of 8 cases of merchandise was lowered at 9 a.m. and the same ceremony was performed by Port Trust Mucadams Sumar Shrivastava and Khetsey Shrivastava. The "pride of place," according to the Sealds—a "rice" vessel—is in accordance with the expressed desire of the large community of native merchants and labour working in the Docks. They regard her entry as an omen of good luck. Labour on the two vessels was contributed by every caste and community working in the docks.

New Gunarder.

Details are now made known of the decoration and general arrangements of the new Gunarder Asquithania, Britain's largest vessel, which leaves the Mersey for her maiden voyage to New York on May 30. In the decoration of the liner works of art, both old and new, from all parts of the United Kingdom and Europe have been copied by experts. There is scarcely a piece of furniture or tapestry, a panel, a painting, a print, a carpet or a chimney-piece in the ship that does not bear the hall-mark of genius. Eight large suites of rooms or flats are named after eight famous artists; and each is adorned with magnificent reproductions. The first-class smoking-room, adapted from a Charles II. room at Greenwich Hospital, has an especial appeal to both English and Americans; for its walls are hung with engravings of the men who made Anglo-American history. Most of the carvings and details there have been copied from old ships, notably the Sovereigns of the Seas, built at Woolwich in 1637 and the largest ship of her period. The electric light fittings are copied from an old Dutch ship lantern. The massive silver and iron are reproductions of the original examples at Knole, Sevenoaks. The first-class drawing-room is a reproduction of work of the best period of the brothers Adam—1780. The rich wrought iron balustrade of the main staircase has been copied from a famous French chateau, as have been the Corinthian columns.

CHILDREN DRUGGED

Woman Caught Kidnapping in Hongkong

At the Supreme Court, this morning, the Acting Chief Justice, (Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz) had before him a woman named Chan Sam on an indictment of ten counts in connection with the kidnapping of three children, one boy and two girls, all under the age of fourteen years, on March 19. The jury was empanelled as follows: Messrs. Roul Galluzzi (foreman) John Fisher, F. X. da Passos Ferreira, Ernest Antonio, J.A.M. Grace, F. Hoggard and C.M. Barradas.

The acting Attorney General (The Hon. Mr. Kemp) instructed by the acting Crown Solicitor (Mr. Hodgson) prosecuted, prisoner being undefended.

The acting Attorney General said the prisoner was charged with kidnapping three children and administering a narcotic to two of them so as to enable her to kidnap them. There were three children concerned in this case, one girl being aged ten years and the younger children aged five years. They lived with their father and mother in Hollywood Road, and, on March 19, the younger children left their parents' house to go on a visit to their grandmother in Square Street.

Went to the Theatre.

It did not seem quite clear whether they saw their grandmother or not, but the children eventually went out into the street and they were there met by the prisoner who took them to her house. She gave the little boy some things to play with and gave the girl, aged ten some paste to eat. The prisoner also told them she would take them to the theatre and there, apparently, the prisoner took them. Out in the street the mother met them. The mother spoke to the little boy, but he did not seem to be able to answer her or even recognize her. The mother said to the prisoner, "What's he like that for?" and the prisoner replied, "Nothing. I gave him a cup of wine and so he's probably drunk." That, said the Acting Attorney General, was an admission by the prisoner that she at all events gave something to the boy, and the something she gave to the boy produced on him the effect of more or less unconsciousness.

"Don't Call the Police."

The mother, noticing the small was not of wine, accused the prisoner of wanting to kidnap the child. The prisoner said, "Don't call the police, I will get something to take away the effect of the wine." Prisoner then went into a chemist's shop and bought some liquors. They all went back to the grandmother's house and the liquors were given to the children. In the meantime the relatives sent out for the police; a district watchman came and the prisoner was arrested. The children were eventually taken to the hospital and it was found by Dr. Koch on some analysis being made of a part of the vomit of one of the children that it contained flowers of Datura Alba. The doctor would tell the Court that the substance administered some time previous was a poisonous narcotic and would have the effect mentioned. It was given to enable her to carry out the offence of kidnapping with which she was charged. It was difficult to see, said prosecuting counsel, what object the prisoner would have in taking away the children except for the purpose of kidnapping. The prisoner had said, "The medicine does not belong to me; the medicine is a cure for venereal disease. I gave them vermifuge to eat which I bought in the street. After that I took them to the theatre."

Evidence in support of the opening statement was then called

BOISTEROUS BROWN.

Disturbance in Hollywood Road and the Sequel.

The alleged conduct of John Brown, who claimed Scotch nationality, during the early hours of the morning of the 19th inst. in the neighbourhood of Hollywood Road, has cost the highspirited individual twenty-five Mexican dollars.

It appears that at the time in question, the defendant in the case called on before Mr. Wood, at the Police Court, this morning, was behaving in a manner not conducive to the peace of the salubrious neighbourhood of Hollywood Road, and attendance of a European constable resulted in the man being charged. He failed to put in an appearance at the Police Court, and his bail of $25 was estreated.

The woman called as a witness on her behalf a man whom she said she was arranging to marry. The man denied that he had any letters from her; he had not seen the two she referred to.

Prisoner:—You say you have not seen them? Suppose you did; may your eyes burst.

His Lordship in summing up said that there was in Hongkong a definite market value for children of the ages of those concerned in this case, and if they could be got away from their parents they could be sold at a profit.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

His Lordship sentenced the prisoner to seven years' imprisonment.

Inspector McDonald was in charge of the case.

ALLEGED OPIUM DEALING

Charge Against Four Chinese.

Before Mr. Wood, at the Police Court, this afternoon four Chinese were charged with being concerned in opium dealing, forty-five valued at $300 being the subject of the charge.

Mr. Eldon Parker, instructed by Mr. Stokes, of Messrs. Deacon, Lockyer, Deacon and Horston, defended the second defendant, and Mr. Otto Kong-sing defended the other three. Mr. R. O. Hutchison, superintendent of imports and exports, prosecuted.

Mr. Otto Kong-sing said he proposed to plead guilty on behalf of the third defendant and he proposed to call him as a witness; he did not know if his Worship would have the man in Court or not.

His Worship observed that there were two charges against the first and second defendants viz selling without a licence on the 18th, and possession, and against the others there was a charge of possession.

Mr. Otto Kong-sing pointed out that there was only one charge against the third defendant.

His Worship intimated that he did not mind the man staying in Court.

Mr. Hutchison in opening the case for the prosecution said the facts of the case were very simple. The first witness went to a house where he met the first and second defendants, and he handed them $260. The first and second defendants agreed to provide him with a certain amount of opium at a given price. The second defendant went out and sent the first and fourth defendants a short time later to deliver the opium at the place at which it was agreed to deliver the opium. The money was paid to the first and second defendant, but was found in the possession of the first defendant. The numbers of the notes paid over were kept by the prosecution. The notes were identified.

Evidence for the prosecution was being called as we went to press.

FIRE OUTBREAK.

Believed to be An Act of Vengeance.

A fire broke out this morning in Shaighai Street when the first and second floors of a house, the ground floor of which was used as a wine shop, were gutted.

The outbreak appears to be result of an act of vengeance caused by the ill-feeling existing between the market people. It was discovered by a woman who seeing a blazing bucket of kerosene on the stairs, endeavoured to put it out with a quilt. In her endeavour she overturned the bucket, the staircase being one mass of flames shortly after.

The Central and Yau-mat' fire brigades attended and soon got the fire under, but not before damage to the extent of $1,000 had been done.

THE BON TON CASE.

Prisoner Convicted on two Charges.

The Chinese who was charged in connection with breaking into the Bon Ton and also assaulting a lady who tried to arrest him, was brought before Mr. Melbourne at the Police Court, this morning and sentenced to three months on the first charge and one month's imprisonment and four hours' stocks, on the second charge.

TELEGRAMS.

[The following telegram arrived too late for insertion on Page 1.]

MEXICAN CRISIS.

U. S. NAVAL MOVEMENTS.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph."]

London, Received April 20.

Reuter's correspondent at Washington states that the battleship Mississippi, with an aeroplane and a corps of 800 marines, has been ordered to leave Pensacola for Tampico, accompanied by the Prairie Dixie and the torpedo flotilla.

Reuter's New York correspondent states that the battleship North Dakota has started for Tampico.

THE BOAT RACE.

Description of Cambridge's Victory.

Not for many years has the Boat Race been favoured by such fine weather as that which prevailed to-day, says the Globe of March 28, and, in consequence, the crowd which assembled on both sides of the river was one of the largest of recent years.

The wind was blowing moderately from the south-west, consequently there was not much in the choice of stations. The Surrey side gave the crew taking that station some advantage over the first half of the course.

Both crews had a short outing during the morning, and were at the start at the same time. Oxford rowed for a minute at 37, and Cambridge put in 21 strokes in 35 seconds. Both crews showed good form, and looked in splendid condition.

At the Boat-houses.

All was bustle and excitement outside the boat-houses. The boats were carefully overhauled, and everything was found to be in perfect order.

Ernest Barry, sculling champion, took the Oxford crew over the course for the last time, and W. T. East, the ex-champion of England and King's bat-groomer, performed a similar duty for the Cambridge crew.

Cambridge, who started strong favourites, went to the post the heaviest crew on record, the average weight of the men being 12st 9½lbs. The Oxford average was just over 12st.

Personnel of the Fights.

Eton, as is usually the case, contributed more oarsmen to the two boats than any other school, but, bearing in mind the traditional stylishness of Eton rowing, it was curious to find that there were four Etonians in the Oxford crew, whereas only two, G. E. Tower and C. E. V. Buxton, found places in the rival boat. Of the other rowing schools, Bedford, Radley, and Cheltenham each provided a representative, and a Colonial figure in either crew.

The crews and weights were:—

Oxford.

2. B. Burdokin (Cheltenham New College) ... 12 4
3. H. K. Ward (New South Wales and New College) ... 12 9

6. A. F. R. Wiggins (Eton and Magdalen) ... 12 13½
7. G. W. Titherington (Radley and Queen's) ... 12 10

CROWN LAND SALE.

A sale of Crown land took place at the P. W. D. Offices this afternoon; Garden Lot 45, situated on Conduit Road, being offered. The lot is 5,149 square feet in area, and the upset price was $257.

The purchaser was Mr. J. E. Joseph at the upset price.

3 F. O. Livingston (Van-couver and Jesus) ... 13 7
4. J. A. Rison (Rugby and First Trinity) ... 13 6½
5. K. G. Garnett (St. Paul's and First Trinity) ... 13 11½
6. C. S. Clark (Bedford and Pembroke) ... 13 1
7. O. E. V. Buxton (Eton and Third Trinity) ... 12 2½
G. E. Tower (Eton and Third Trinity) ... 11 12
L. E. Ridley (East-burne and Jesus) (cox) ... 8 7

The Race.

Shortly before two o'clock it became known that Cambridge had won the race and taken the Surrey side.

The crews embarked shortly after the hour, with the Light Blues leading the way as challengers, and paddled down to the stake-boat above Putney Bridge. All being in readiness, Mr. R. I. Pitman, the umpire, started the rival crews at twenty minutes past two.

Contrary to expectation, Oxford struck the water first, and Pitman was timed to pull 38 strokes against Tower's 36.

From the first, however, it was apparent that Cambridge would hold their opponents, and, rowing in admirable form, they went ahead, and were half a boat's length in front at the Duke's Head. This lead was increased to a full length at Beverley Brook, and the same distance separated the boats at Craven St.

It was clear at this early point that the Light Blues had the pace of their opponents. Though Pitman rowed in a manner worthy of his name, Cambridge gradually increased their lead, and were at least a length and a quarter ahead at Walden's. This lead they increased to a length and a half at the Old Tree, and a full two lengths off Harrod's.

Oxford's Struggle.

Oxford struggled gamely but ineffectually to reduce their opponents' lead. Tower, taking matters easily, shot Homersmith Bridge with an advantage of about three lengths.

Off the Lead Mills Pitman spurred, and was timed to strike 40 to the minute. Tower, rowing two strokes less, easily held him, and the race became somewhat of a procession.

Though palpably beaten, Oxford stuck gamely to their work, and Pitman tried to spurt, but made little impression in the rough water. Tower, without quickening his stroke, led by 2½ lengths along the Mall, and the same lead was maintained at Thornycroft's.

Oxford toiled painfully in the rear, and two or three men in the boat showed signs of distress. Cambridge had throughout rowed in perfect form, and the record crowd assembled along the Devonshire meadows gave them a most enthusiastic reception.

Henceforward there was no semblance of racing, though Pitman and his men stuck gamely to their work.

At Barnes Bridge, which was shot in 18min. 52sec. from the start, the Light Blues led by 3½ lengths, and they paddled past the University post the easiest of winners by 4½ lengths, in 20min. 22sec.

At the finish some of the Oxford men were very much distressed, notably on the bow side.

HONGKONG SCHOOL SPORTS.

Keenly Contested Events at Happy Valley.

The annual athletic sports in connection with the Hongkong Schools, were held this afternoon at the Happy Valley when a large attendance was present to watch some keenly contested events. The track was in good condition though just a little on the soft side, and some exceptionally good sport was witnessed.

The officials responsible for the success of the meeting were:—

NANKING'S REIGN OF TERROR.

A Denial by the Tutch.

The North China Daily News has received the following telegram from the Tutch of Nanking:

"I ask you kindly to publish the following, regret being made in a letter from your Nanking correspondent published to-day. The conditions have been no different from what they have been for the last six months. On the date your correspondent wrote, I was paying calls three miles from my camp, among them the British Consul and to Mr. (Kookh), formerly United States Minister to China. The troops have shown no signs of mutiny. Whatever precautions are being taken, are to prevent another outbreak against the Government which so seriously affects foreign trade in the Yangtze Valley."

FENG KUO-CHANG.

Nanking, April 13.

The editor adds the following comments:—The above telegram is being referred to our Nanking correspondent for further reply, but in the meantime, three points may be mentioned:—

(1) Our correspondent's statement was that the "Tutch" rarely or never goes outside his camp. The visit paid to the British Consul on Saturday came to our knowledge from an independent source on Monday afternoon. On that occasion the road to the Consulate was lined with troops, and our informant was turned back from passing along it.

(2) As regards the soldiers, our correspondent's phrase was "immutability, danger, mutiny," only through watchfulness and tact averted. This is not necessarily at variance with general Feng's somewhat elastic phrase "no signs of mutiny."

(3) "Whatever precautions" says General Feng. The point here is what are these precautions, and to what extent may not General Feng's orders be harsh and unjustly carried out.

100 Yards Skipping Race, girls:—1. Mary Hido; Alice Edgar; 3. P. M. Vieira.

300 Yards Flat Race Handicap:—1. Chan Ho; 2. Chan Wai-yun; 3. Tong Shan-yun.

Junior Championship:—R. Omar, St. Joseph's College.

Senior Championship:—F. Shamas-deen, Queen's College.

Drainage Pumping Plant the Nile.

The Egyptian Government has placed an order with Messrs Sulzer Bros., Switzerland, and 30, Norfolk-street, Strand, W., for a large pumping installation, which is to be erected near Dillim in the Delta of the Nile. The volume of the canal, exclusive of buildings and canals, amounts to about 218,000, and the plant is to be capable of dealing with 82 million gallons of water per hour, with a lift of 10 ft. to 10 ft.

The motive power consists of eight Sulzer-Diesel engines of 400 brake horse-power and six Sulzer-Union steam engines of 475 brake horse-power, each of these units being direct coupled to a Sulzer-Centrifugal pump. The four boilers for the steam section, also supplied by Messrs. Sulzer Bros., are of the "Garbe water-tube type," having a total heating surface of 5,700 sq. ft. The order further includes all the necessary piping, an electric lighting installation with Diesel engines, a repair workshop, and special arrangements for automatically registering the volume and height of water, from which a complete record of the working of the plant will be obtainable.

Signs of Mourning.

To the announcement in the Times recently of the death of an eminent man there was appended the statement, "His wife and family will respect his urgent desire that no outward sign of mourning should be worn." The practice of wearing mourning has long been sliding into disuse, and probably the next twenty years will see it abandoned altogether, at any rate among the wealthier classes. The Times.

Steamer Rate War.

At the opening of the Liao, the Tanghai Co.'s s.s. Sekkai Maru, the Shaw-Hing Steamship Co.'s s.s. Shaw-Hing, and Messrs. Bandinol & Co.'s s.s. Chelof mutually agreed to refrain from a ruinous competition and to maintain a uniform coolie passenger fare at a normal scale of Yen 2.50 per capita between Lungkou and Newchwang. The recent accident to the Shaw-Hing in the Liao, which is now at Dairen for repairs, as reported previously, has offered a temptation to other steamers to introduce cut rates.

A BOON TO EXPORTERS.

Reduction of the Freight on Cassia.

The conference of home-ward steamers has reduced the rate of freight on cassia to 30/- per ton to direct European ports, very likely as a first step against the Rickmers line, whose first home-ward steamer is said to call in Hongkong in June.

The circular advising shippers of this reduction has been received by local exporters with delight. The business for the main shipping season during May, June, July, August mostly has been done at the old rate of 41/3 so that exporters are said to make an unexpectedly nice, extra profit on their forward sales at the cost of the conference lines.

In consideration of the recent bad times this reduction will come as a great boon to exporters.

IMPOSING CEREMONY.

Consecration of Altar and Confirmation at Kowloon.

With all the glorious and impressive dignity attached to the ceremony of consecrating an altar in a Roman Catholic Church, His Lordship Bishop Pozzoni consecrated the altar presented to the Catholic community of Kowloon by Dr. Gomes, at the Church of the Holy Rosary, yesterday. The service commenced at seven o'clock in the morning, and the altar looked a picture of enchanting beauty in its profuse decorations of beautiful flowers and the blaze of light from numerous tapers.

His Lordship after the solemn consecration celebrated Mass and afterwards administered the sacraments of the Holy Eucharist and confirmation to a number of children of both sexes, who looked very pretty in their immaculate garb as they lined the altar rails. Addressing the children afterwards, his Lordship exhorted them to remain always fortified by the graces of the Sacraments so that they would be enabled to resist to the very generous gift of Dr. Gomes in providing the altar which he had consecrated that morning.

A special feature of the service was the music, the singing being worthy of much praise.

Transferred to Mukden.

Mr. O. M. Bishop, U. S. Vice-Consul at Chafso, has been transferred to Mukden, and his duties for the time being at Chafso will be carried on by one of the Student interpreters from the Legation at Peking; Mr. G. O. Hanson, formerly U. S. Vice-Consul at Shanghai and latterly at D-day, has been transferred to New-chang, and Mr. F. A. Sterling, Second Secretary at the Legation, who has been on leave in the United States, has just returned to Peking.

NORTHERN NEWS.

The Latest Doings in the North.

Captain R. M. C. Ruxton, formerly of the First Chinese Regiment, has been appointed assistant to Sir Richard Dane, K.C.B., in the S. G. Gabelle office, and will be stationed at Peking.

A Token of Esteem.

Mr. T. Sammons, U. S. Consul-General in Shanghai, received by the last American mail a handsome present in the shape of a gold watch suitably engraved. The present was from the American Japanese Association as a token of esteem from the American residents.

Mrs. Lobingier, Mrs. Lobingier, wife of the Judge of the U. S. Court for China, is expected in Shanghai and her arrival is being keenly anticipated by the members of the American Women's Club in Shanghai. Mrs. Lobingier was for some time President of the institution in Manila.

Changes.

Mr. F. J. Allshorn, Customs tide surveyor at Shashi, has retired from the service after serving thirty-four years, his place being taken by Mr. R. Heukel, chief examiner at Kiukiang. Mr. T. Moorhead, tide surveyor at Wuhu, is retiring after fifty years service. Mr. C. A. Meyer, tide surveyor at Yochow, has retired after thirty-five years service, being relieved by Mr. E. Shelton, assistant tide surveyor from Canton. Mr. L. Liedke, tide surveyor at Samshui, who joined in 1873, has gone home on leave, being relieved by Mr. Y. M. Mudes, boat officer, just returned from leave. Mr. G. A. F. Schneider, acting tide surveyor at Tongku, has been transferred to Hankow as chief examiner.

Coupon Tickets.

It is announced by the Tientsin Pakow Railway Administration that the newly introduced through coupon tickets, and the Tientsin-Pakow-Peking-Hankow-Peking-Kalgan-Tientsin-Pakow and Shanghai-Nanking lines are available for ordinary trains of the line only. Holders of through coupon tickets wishing to travel by the Tientsin-Pakow Express trains must first obtain a special place ticket for the distance to be traversed. Place tickets may be obtained either at the junction stations or on the trains.

Dr. Wu Ting-fang, Dr. and Madame Wu Ting-fang are entertaining the Ladies International Club to tea, on Saturday afternoon, the 25th inst., at their home, No. 3 Gordon Road, Shanghai.

Presentation at Hankow. A magnificent gold champagne urn was presented to Dr. J. A. Thomson at Hankow on the 4th inst. by the Trading Company and members of the company's staff. The urn, which has just arrived from St. Petersburg, is about nine inches in diameter, and the gold surface is beautifully worked in inlaid enamel. Dr. Thomson's initials are inscribed on the outside and inside the lid are the signatures of the donors. Dr. Thomson is very popular with Russian residents at Hankow who have taken this opportunity of showing their regard before his departure.
